Military details	Captain Stanley George Woodbridge, MC of the Northumberland Fusiliers died of wounds on December 19, 1918, at the age of 32. Because his death occurred over a month after the Armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, he is among the thousands of service members who survived the intense fighting of the war but eventually succumbed to severe injuries or related illnesses during the post-war demobilization period. Before the war, he worked at the London Stock Exchange. On the battlefield, he was highly recognized for his leadership, earning the Military Cross (MC) for conspicuous gallantry. During one particular action, when his company was completely halted by enemy barbed wire right before their objective, he personally charged forward under blistering enemy fire to cut a path for his men, sustaining a severe gunshot wound to the chest just as he finished. Though he sustained his wounds on the Western Front, he was evacuated back home to the United Kingdom for medical treatment. He passed away in Harrow, Middlesex, England. Because he died on home soil, his body was not buried overseas. He is buried in the Harrow (St. Mary) Lower Churchyard in Greater London, England (in the South West part). To honor his wartime sacrifice, he is also commemorated on the London Stock Exchange Roll of Honour.

Story of Sacrifice

Stanley George Woodbridge (1889 – 1918)

Stanley Woodbridge was a well-known Harrow sportsman and Old Lyonian who left his career at the London Stock Exchange to enlist at the outbreak of the First World War. Rising from private to captain, he led his men in action, was awarded the Military Cross for distinguished service, and ultimately died from wounds sustained in France in 1918.

Civilian Life

Stanley Woodbridge (c.1886–1918) was born in Stanmore and baptised in the parish of Harrow in February 1886. He was the youngest son of James and Annie Eliza Woodbridge of Harrow. Before the war, he worked as a clerk at the London Stock Exchange and was also a prominent local sportsman. An Old Lyonian, he captained the school football team in 1901–02 and later captained the Old Lyonian Football Club for seven years. He was also a keen cricketer, noted as a batsman, bowler and fieldsman. In March 1916 he married Irene Annie Puddefoot, and they had a son, John, born in 1917.

Military life

At the outbreak of the First World War, Woodbridge abandoned his civilian career and enlisted as a private in the 10th Royal Fusiliers (Stockbrokers) in August 1914. After training at Colchester and Salisbury Plain, he was sent to France in July 1915. In January 1916 he returned to England to take up a commission in the Northumberland Fusiliers, subsequently returning to France where he served as an acting captain and led his company in action. His military service included repeated exposure to the fighting. On 16 June 1917, while leading his company, he was seriously wounded by a gunshot to the chest. The bullet struck his revolver and caused it to explode. He was evacuated to England and treated at Salisbury, where he initially made a favourable recovery.

It was for his conduct in the field that Woodbridge was awarded the Military Cross. The Harrow Observer reported that his colonel, in congratulating him, stated that he had “thoroughly deserved it and more.” He was subsequently received by King George V and decorated with the Military Cross. After recovering, Woodbridge returned to military service. He was attached to the West Yorkshire Regiment and went back to France on 3 September 1918. On 23 October, he was severely wounded by a shell. His leg was amputated and he was brought back to England, but a further operation became necessary. He died from his wounds at the Fourth London General Hospital, Denmark Hill, on 19 December 1918, more than a month after the Armistice. He was 32. Woodbridge was buried with full military honours in the Old Harrow Churchyard. His name was also commemorated on the John Lyon School memorials, the Harrow War Memorial and the London Stock Exchange memorial. His death was particularly remembered by the Old Lyonians. In 1919, the club recorded that it had lost many members of its pre-war team, notably its captain, Stanley Woodbridge, whose leadership and sportsmanlike example had contributed to the club's earlier success.

The following poem, published in the Harrow Observer on 27 December 1918, was dedicated to Captain Stanley George Woodbridge, M.C.:

TO A PAL

Dedicated to the late Captain S. G. Woodbridge, M.C.

Thou art gone! Old Pal, God bless thee.
Thou hast earned thy just reward.
That soul so dear, too good for here,
Was wanted by the Lord.
Oh, lion-hearted comrade,
That lovely life devine (sic)
Still lives to cheer one friend left here,
Dear old pal of mine.
Oh noble, generous patriot,
Who died for such as I,
And by thy brave example
Taught men how man should die.
Thou art gone to greet the others,
To fall into the line
And be with those, the Lord hath chose
For glory, pal of mine.
It's for the like of thee, old pal,
That the Grace of God is given;
Only brave hearts like yours, old pal,
Can hope to enter heaven.
We can only pray we may be
Strengthened by thy life so fine;
And hope at last to clasp thy hand
On High, old pal of mine.

ON ACTIVE SERVICE.
ROLL OF HONOUR.

Many familiar and well-known young men have left the district for service with the Regular Army, the Territorials, or some branch of His Majesty's Service. We shall be glad to receive the names of any local persons serving with the colours, or letters from local men at the Front.

S. Rose, a member of St. John's Social Club has joined the London Scottish.

Robert Tew, a member of the Grove Lawn Tennis Club, has been accepted for service.

H. Griffin, Captain of the Headstone Rangers, is serving his country in the Territorials.

H. Norman, Secretary of the Harrow and Woodstone Cricket League, is on active service.

P. J. Jumper, attached to Harrow Police-station, who rejoined the Scots Greys, was at Mons.

Messrs. Wills, Lawrence and Howell, of Boush Institute Cricket Club, are with the colours.

H. Butters, a member of the Old Gaytonian Club, has responded to the call of his country.

Len Barton, a prominent member of St. John's Social Club, has joined the local Battalion of the Territorials.

C. Grinham, son of Mr. C. Grinham, a prominent member of the Harrow Bowls Club, is with the Herts Yeomanry.

Messrs. Cashen, Daniels and Sainsbury, of the Harrow Gas Works, have responded to Lord Kitchener's appeal.

S. Herbert, of the Lancaster Football Club, is serving his country in the Ninth Battalion Middlesex Regiment.

James Motherwell, a well-known resident of Woodstone, has joined the Royal Irish Rifles, and has gone on active service.

George Neal, of Pinner House, has joined the Hon. Artillery Company, and consequently has resigned as a Special Constable.

The Harrow and Boush Brigade have sent many men into the Army, and another batch of 20 are expected to enlist to-day (Friday).

P. Rayner, one of the Assistant Masters at the County School, Harrow, has been appointed Second Lieutenant in the 6th Yorkshire Light Infantry.

Reginald Lemmings, of the OBSERVER Printing Staff, and who last season played full back for Crescent Argyle, has joined the "abroad" Battalion of the Ninth Middlesex.

Stanley Woodbridge, captain of the Old Lyonian Football Club, and a popular member of the Harrow Cricket Club, has discarded the willow for the rifle, and his many friends wish him great good luck.

F. C. Leeming, one of the most prominent members of the Harrow Cricket Club, has volunteered for active service, and he probably played his last match of the season, on Saturday. His colleagues will wish him "God-speed" to the War.

Percy Bennett, of the Arcadian Cricket Club, has joined the Queen's Westminster, and has volunteered for active service. When volunteers were asked for, the whole Battalion 1000 strong stepped forward amid a scene of indescribable enthusiasm.

Captain Ashford, who offered his services, was called up on active service yesterday. The gallant captain is attached to the West Yorkshire depot (Infantry). He is, however, an Artilleryman, and is instructor of gunnery and marksmen (Hythel) and was attached to the 3rd East Lancashire Regiment and served with them for nearly three years in the Boer war.

Quartermaster-Sergeant George Grant, brother of Mr. J. Grant, West Acton, Harrow, is serving with the 52nd Oxfordshire Light Infantry. Mr. Grant, sen., served 25 years with the regiment, and Mr. J. Grant had five brothers with the old colours.

Quartermaster-Sergeant Grant is at present, much to his disgust, on depot work at Aldershot. He was unfit when the regiment went abroad, and is now eager to be off. He writes: "Where the 52nd is I should be. I should feel better off directing and conducting a Company against the 'mailed fist.'"

- Stanley Woodbridge, captain of the Old Lyonian Football Club, and a popular member of the Harrow Cricket Club, has discarded the willow for the rifle, and his many friends wish him great good luck.

CAPTAIN S. G. WOODBRIDGE.

DIED OF WOUNDS.

It is with great regret that the sad news has to be recorded of the death of Captain Stanley George Woodbridge, M.C. He joined the 10th Northumberland Fusiliers as a private immediately on the outbreak of war and trained at Colchester and Salisbury Plain. He was drafted to France in July, 1915, but returned to England in January, 1916, to take up a commission in the Northumberland Fusiliers. He again went to France and saw a great deal of service, being wounded on June 16, 1917, whilst leading his company. It was during this action that he gained the Military Cross. He was invalided home, but after a good recovery he was attached to the West Yorks, returning to France on September 3rd last. He was severely wounded by a shell on October 23rd, and after having his leg amputated he was brought to England. He rallied for a time and hopes of his recovery were entertained. However, a second operation became necessary, which proved fatal and the position of left back with even greater success. In addition he was a dashing batsman, a good bowler, and a brilliant fieldman. Stanley Woodbridge whilst at School gained and kept the love and esteem of both masters and boys by the absolute straightness and open-heartedness of his character. It would not be wrong to say that he shared with the late A. W. Parker in being the two most popular Lyoni-ans that have ever been. He always had a cheerful smile, but never stood any nonsense. To the younger members he gave sound and encouraging advice. To all who knew him the thought that his fine manly figure will not again be seen gives more than a passing pang. His memory will not easily die, certainly not amongst Lyoni-ans.

Captain Woodbridge, who was the fifth and youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodbridge, of Walwyns, Peterborough-Road, Harrow, was born just upon 33 (sic. should be 32) years ago and leaves a wife and son, behind him, with whom, as well as his bereaved family, the deepest sympathy is felt. He was an Old Lyonian and it was as a Lyonian that he became so well-known and popular. He captained the School football in 1901-2, which was one of the most successful seasons the School ever had and for seven years prior to the outbreak of war he had captained the Old Lyonian Football 1st XI. At School, and for the first few years subsequently, he played centre forward being a most dangerous shot, but in later years he filled the position of left back with even greater success. In addition he was a dashing batsman, a good bowler, and a brilliant fieldman. Stanley Woodbridge whilst at School gained and kept the love and esteem of both masters and boys by the absolute straightness and open-heartedness of his character.
