

Russell William Bradberry

1884 – 1917

Civilian Research

Field Name	Field Data	Source of data
Casualty Name	Russell William Bradberry	CWGC
Date of Birth	1884 Wealdstone Baptised 9/11/1894 parish of Wealdstone	FreeBMD 1911 census Baptism entry
Date of Death (from Spreadsheet)	3/12/1917	CWGC
Age at death (from Spreadsheet)	33	CWGC
Marital Status	Married to Elsie Bradberry nee White of Wealdstone, 14/7/1913 Holy Trinity Wealdstone	CWGC Marriage certificate
Children (if any)

Occupation prior to Call up	In 1911 he was a clerk, Stock & Share Dealer	1911 census
Parents	Eldest son of Russel and Mary Rebecca Bradberry, of Wealdstone, Harrow, Middx	CWGC
Listed Address(s)	48 Locket Rd, Wealdstone, Middx 86 Peel Road, Wealdstone, Middx	Obituary see below 1911 census
Parents /Fathers occupation	Stock and Share Dealer
Brothers and Sisters	Ada Kate Bradberry (older), Thomas Blacksley Bradberry (younger), Millicent Bradberry (younger)	1911 census
Years at John Lyon School
University (if any)
Obituary	Not found an obituary yet
Additional sources of data
War Memorials:	Wealdstone Football Club (lost)	https://memorials.iwm.org.uk/memorial/11319
	Wealdstone Clock Tower, High Street, Wealdstone	https://memorials.iwm.org.uk/memorial/11101
	Addition to Gravestone, in New Churchyard, All Saints Church, Uxbridge Rd, Harrow Weald, Harrow	https://memorials.iwm.org.uk/name/251091
	There is a memorial in the City of London but I can't find an actual link to it. Erected by London Stock Exchange. It's located on Paternoster Square
	John Lyon School, plaque	https://memorials.iwm.org.uk/name/340965
	John Lyon School, sundial	https://memorials.iwm.org.uk/name/341258

Military Research

JLS WWI RoH	BRADBERRY R.W.
CWGC Reference	https://www.cwgc.org/find-war-dead/casualty/121566/bradberry,-russel-william/
Age	33
DoD	03-Dec-17
Rank	L Bdr
Regiment	Royal Garrison Artillery, 301st Siege Bty
Location	BOIS-GUILLAUME COMMUNAL CEMETERY EXTENSION - France
Military details	Eldest son of Russel and Mary Rebecca Bradberry, of Wealdstone, Harrow, Middlesex; husband of Elsie Bradberry, of Wealdstone. Lance Bombardier Russel William Bradberry (Service Number 70878) died of fever on December 3, 1917 at the age of 33. He served in the 301st Siege Battery of the Royal Garrison Artillery. He passed away at Rouen Hospital in Seine-Maritime, France. Rouen was a major base for British hospital centers during World War I. He was originally buried in the Bois-Guillaume Communal Cemetery Extension in Rouen (Plot B, Grave 11A). His body was subsequently repatriated to his home country. He now rests in the All Saints Churchyard in Harrow Weald, Middlesex, England, though his original headstone remains at the French cemetery. Before enlisting in Harrow on September 10, 1915, Bradberry lived in Wealdstone and worked as a Stock Exchange Clerk. He is commemorated on both the Wealdstone War Memorial and the London Stock Exchange Roll of Honour. If you are researching his family lineage or his unit's history, I can provide more details about the 301st Siege Battery's deployment or his family records in Wealdstone.

Story of Sacrifice

Russell William Bradberry (1884–1917)

Russell was a Lance Bombardier with the Royal Garrison Artillery who died aged 33 at Rouen Hospital on 3 December 1917 from trench fever contracted while serving in France.

Civilian Life

Russell Bradberry was born in Wealdstone in 1884, the eldest son of Russell and Mary Rebecca Bradberry. He lived at 48 Locket Road, Wealdstone, and was the eldest of four children, with siblings Ada Kate, Thomas Blacksley and Millicent. In 1911, Russell was working as a clerk with a stock and share dealer.

His connection with John Lyon School is recorded on the school's First World War memorial plaque and sundial. His name also appears on the Wealdstone Clock Tower memorial and the memorial associated with the London Stock Exchange.

Russell married Elsie White at Holy Trinity Church, Wealdstone, on 14 July 1913 and at the time of his death, Elsie was living in Wealdstone.

Military Life

Russell enlisted in Harrow on 10 September 1915 and joined the Royal Garrison Artillery. He served as a Lance Bombardier with the 301st Siege Battery. After training at Shoeburyness, the 301st Siege Battery landed in France on 2 April 1917 and was attached to the Heavy Artillery Group.

Russell died from trench fever at a hospital in Rouen, France, on 3 December 1917, aged 33. Trench Fever was a relapsing bacterial infection caused when louse faeces entered the body through a wound or scratched/broken skin. Lethal cases were rare, but severe, persistent fever could lead to heart failure. He was initially buried at Bois-Guillaume Communal Cemetery Extension near Rouen. His remains were subsequently returned to England, and he was buried at All Saints Churchyard, Harrow Weald. A letter from the military chaplain to Elsie recorded: "I do so sympathise with you in the death of your husband. You know he died as a brave man and good soldier." The chaplain also stated that Russell had been buried with reverence and military honours.

Photo

Bradberry Photo AI enhanced

Bradberry Photo Original

Notes and Clippings

Harrow Observer 14/12/1917

Harrow Observer 14/12/1917

ON ACTIVE SERVICE.
BRADBERRY.—On December 3rd at Rouen, of Trench fever, Bombardier Russel William Bradberry, husband of Elsie Bradberry, of Wealdstone, Harrow, and eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Bradberry, of 2, Hanover cres., Brighton, aged 33.

Harrow Observer 14/12/1917

ON ACTIVE SERVICE.
BRADBERRY.—On December 3rd at Rouen, of Trench fever, Bombardier Russel William Bradberry, husband of Elsie Bradberry, of Wealdstone, Harrow, and eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Bradberry, of 2, Hanover cres., Brighton, aged 33.

Also Harrow Observer 14/12/1917

Also Harrow Observer 14/12/1917

LOCAL CASUALTY LIST.

DIED.

BOMBARDIER R. BRADBERRY.

The news has been received that Bombardier Russel Bradberry, R.G.A., has died in hospital at Rouen, from fever. He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradberry, of Whitehall-road, Harrow, late of Wealdstone, and husband of Mrs. Bradberry, of 48, Locket-road, Wealdstone, and late of Harrow-view. He enlisted about two years ago, and after training at Shoeburyness, was sent to France in March of this present year, 1917. It is thought that he contracted a chill through exposure. A letter from the chaplain reads: "I do so sympathise with you in the death of your husband. You know he died as a brave man and good soldier. He was buried yesterday with reverence and military honours."

LOCAL CASUALTY LIST.

DIED.

BOMBARDIER R. BRADBERRY.

The news has been received that Bombardier Russel Bradberry, R.G.A., has died in hospital at Rouen, from fever. He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradberry, of Whitehall-road, Harrow, late of Wealdstone, and husband of Mrs. Bradberry, of 48, Locket-road, Wealdstone, and late of Harrow-view. He enlisted about two years ago, and after training at Shoeburyness, was sent to France in March of this present year, 1917. It is thought that he contracted a chill through exposure. A letter from the chaplain reads: "I do so sympathise with you in the death of your husband. You know he died as a brave man and good soldier. He was buried yesterday with reverence and military honours."

From the Centenary issue of the Lyonian, researched by pupils 2014
Bradberry, R W Russel William Bradberry was a Lance Bombardier of the 301st siege battalion, royal garrison artillery who was born around 1884 and died on 3rd December 1917 of his wounds aged 33. Eldest son of Russel and Mary Rebecca Bradberry, of Wealdstone, Harrow, Middlesex; husband of Elsie Bradberry, of Wealdstone.		Bradberry, R W Russel William Bradberry was a Lance Bombardier of the 301st siege battalion, royal garrison artillery who was born around 1884 and died on 3rd December 1917 of his wounds aged 33. Eldest son of Russel and Mary Rebecca Bradberry, of Wealdstone, Harrow, Middlesex; husband of Elsie Bradberry, of Wealdstone.